The VITA /EITC Program in West Virginia is funded by:

The WV Alliance for Sustainable Families (WVASF) has served as an important voice for West Virginia's working families. The WVASF coordinates research, education, advocacy, and coalition building on issues related to asset building and economic stability. The WVASF also leads EITC awareness throughout the state. The Mission of the WV Alliance for Sustainable Families is to increase access to asset building opportunities and improve economic security for low to moderate-income West Virginia families.
